

Act 1 of Parliament Citizenship Modification

Government of Wiltogo

By order of the King and by the justification of both the High Court and Parliament, an addition to Chapter 1 Article 1 has been made.

Any person wanting to become a citizen of Wiltogo will have to fill out the citizenship form. Next he or she will need to attach a clear photo of his or her face to the citizenship form and send both to the king. In order to become part of Parliament or any Government Agency the citizen must write a short essay on their life, achievements, and why he or she should be selected for the desired position in government. Lastly the candidate must pass the citizenship test. After the King or Queen has reviewed the application he or she may then decide whether to allow the citizen to be put in their desired position.

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Isaac Jones". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, looping initial "I" and a long, sweeping underline.
